Van Cleave, of the ninth district, and Jan. E. Stout of the tenth district. State Inspector of Illuminating Oils—Dr. H. B. Tanner, of Kaukauna. Labor Statistician—Halford Erickson.

Senator Austin yesterday announced the appointment of Messrs. Riordan, Behr and Whitehead as the senate representatives on the subcommittee of the judiciary committee to examine the revision of the statutes as made by Messrs. Sanborn and Berryman.

HON. W. G. WHEELER'S SPEECH

Janesville Members Nominated John C. Spooner Yesterday. To Assemblyman William G. Wheeler was accorded the honor of nominating Hon. John C. Spooner for United States senator in the assembly yesterday and the Janesville representative did himself proud. It was just 12 o'clock noon when Speaker Backstaff called the assembly to order and announced that the business before the house was the election of a United States senator. He said that Mr. Wheeler was the man chosen to place Mr. Spooner's name in nomination in the assembly and following the speaker's announcement Mr. Wheeler arose and said:

Assemblyman Wheeler's speech. Mr. Speaker and gentlemen of the Assembly: The time has arrived when we are to perform the most important service to the people of this state that we shall be able to render during the present session of the legislature. We are to elect a senator to the United States, and to select from among our many able, brilliant and distinguished citizens a gentleman who shall for the next six years to come be a high and dignified position. I need not speak to you of the importance of this place or of the greatness of the state which he will represent in the meetings of our national legislature. Need I say it that I should direct your attention to the vast and varied industries that have their homes within our borders; the inexhaustible mineral resources, the extent of the timber supply, the factories and workshops, its thousands of farmers, rich with their varied productions, its commerce and its manufactures. Its millions of people employed in their different vocations. A people who by their tireless energy, resistance and perseverance have within a half century of time changed this country from a trackless waste, the home of the savage and the wild beast, to what you see it today. All these things are familiar to us and of all of them we are proud. We are proud of our resources, our industries, our people and our state, and we insist that the man whom we select to go forth as one of the accredited representatives of this state, shall be in every way an honor to us as a people and as a state. One who is capable of appreciating our needs and of ministering to them, who will protect our interests, who will guide us by his counsel and assist us by his voice.

Wisconsin the Home of Genius. Wisconsin has long been the home of genius and ability. Many of her sons have by services rendered to the state and nation earned for themselves undying fame in the hearts and minds of the American people. It is a source of pride and gratification to us today that notwithstanding the ability, the eloquence and the learning that distinguished the gentlemen who have in times past occupied this exalted position, we can present the name of one of our citizens who by his industry and application coupled with his brilliant gifts of intellect and oratory has made for himself a name that is already written alongside that of the highest among them; a man whose fame is not bounded by the confines of this state, but which has reached to the farthest borders of this great republic.

In the years now to follow matters of grave importance to the American people will come before congress. A law must be enacted which shall provide for a tariff that will not only supply sufficient revenue to defray the expenses of running the government, but which shall be so adjusted as to at the same time furnish adequate protection to our industries and our labor. Questions concerning the financial policy of the government will also arise, and notwithstanding the great triumph of the cause of sound money at our last election, efforts will be made in certain quarters to effect changes in our financial system. This government will also be called upon to consider delicate questions of international law. There seems to be a spirit of jingoism abroad, and from certain quarters comes a clamor for interference by this government with the affairs of other nations. I, the consideration of these, as well as of all other matters, we need a man to represent us who by his experience, his ability and his genius has shown himself competent, safe and reliable, one upon whose judgment we can unhesitatingly rely, and upon whose vigilance in defense of our interests we can positively depend.

Tribute To Spooner.

Such a man is John C. Spooner. He is a man no stranger to the halls of congress, but who has served well and faithfully in the position for which he is about to be named. Entering the senate twelve years ago comparatively unknown, he almost immediately won for himself a national reputation, and was known as one of the ablest and most effective debaters, and one of the most influential and indefatigable workers in the senate. It is an opinion was eagerly sought on all important questions, and upon his calm and conservative judgment the members of that body came to rely. Today the people of this country are looking forward with joy to the time when he shall resume his rightful place among the leaders of that body, and they will applaud with genuine feeling your action when by electing him to this high office you have honored not only him alone, but the state as well. To him the people of this state are now looking. Him they had in mind when they elected to seats in this assembly ninety-one republican members. Of him they were thinking when a majority of 100,000 was rolled up last November. The people were in earnest and intended that when this day came the gentleman selected should be Mr. Spooner.

In the Name of Rock County.

I come to you from the grand old county of Rock, the center of the agricultural district of the state, from a city which, with its factories and workshops, its forges and furnaces, its banks and business houses, represents every class of people from the capitalist to the day laborer; from a county which, two years ago, returned the largest republican majority of any county in the state, and which on the 3d of last November placed to the credit of the republican party a majority of nearly 2,000 additional to what it had before. It is no idle boast when I say that for the size of that majority you are to hold responsible the people who desire the election of John C. Spooner to the United States senate. Twelve years ago he came to the city of Janesville to deliver an address. He came to us a stranger, he went away with the good will and admiration of every one who heard him, and which feeling time and a closer acquaintance have ripened into true fellowship. Today, regardless of class or calling, the people of Rock county are asking for his return to the senate of the United States.

It affords me genuine pleasure on their behalf to present as their candidate the name of the Hon. John C. Spooner.

DIE BY HUNDREDS FROM PLAGUE

Three Hundred Thousand People Have Already Left Bombay.

Boston, Jan. 27.—Miss Abbie Child, secretary of the Woman's Board of Missions, has received the following letter from Mrs. Rev. E. S. Hume of Bombay:

"The terrible bubonic plague is working fearful havoc in nearly all branches of the native community. Some 300,000 persons have left town. In the railway station here at Byculia there sit hundreds waiting for an opportunity to leave. In the Hindoo burying ground down on Queen's road Dr. Juddo, the assistant coroner, says that the papers give not a fractional part of the facts as to the plague; that in one burying ground the day before there had been 130 bodies brought and they could not dispose of them fast enough. In the Mohammedan burying grounds four and five bodies are being placed in a single grave. And yet, with all this about us, not a native Christian has had an attack.

"Eight Europeans, if not more, have died of it. At first it was thought that about thirty per cent recovered, but later facts from various sources prove the fatality to be even greater."

In Session Five Minutes.

Springfield, Jan. 27.—The senate was in session scarcely five minutes Tuesday. Three bills were introduced, however. One by Senator McKinlay prohibits convict labor by contract and provides that the labor of convicts shall be used for state purposes only. Senator McConnell introduced a bill appropriating $44,000 for the ordinary and other expenses of the Illinois Institute for the Deaf and Dumb at Jacksonville, and Senator Chapman introduced one appropriating money for the necessary expenses of the governor's office, the secretary of state's office and for the care of the executive mansion. The senate then adjourned.

To Aid Famine Sufferers.

San Francisco, Jan. 27.—A special meeting of the chamber of commerce will be held Thursday afternoon to devise means for assisting in the relief of those who are suffering from plague and famine in India. It has been suggested by some to charter a vessel and ship flour and wheat. If the vessel was to sail within a few weeks it will reach India about the time it is feared that the sufferers of the famine will be in the most need of assistance.

Kansas Populists Elect Harris Senator.

Topeka, Kan., Jan. 27.—The separate houses of the legislature balloted at noon Tuesday for United States senator. The combined vote, assuring the formal election of W. A. Harris, populist, of Leavenworth county, in the joint session today resulted as follows: Harris, 191; J. R. Burton, republican caucus nominee, 53; Gen. J. C. Caldwell, republican, 2; L. P. King, populist, 1.

Statement of Bank of Germany.

Berlin, Jan. 27.—The weekly statement of the Imperial Bank of Germany shows the following changes as compared with the previous account: Cash in hand increased 28,500,000 marks, treasury notes increased 1,060,000 marks, other securities decreased 15,740,000 marks, notes in circulation decreased 53,960,000 marks.

Successfully Nailed.

The candidate's wife galed furiously at a life-size picture of her feet. "This paper says I wear a 4 A," she cried, "and my shoe dealer has sworn that my size is only 2½ A." With a quick movement she tore the paper to shreds. "Another campaign lie is nailed!" she hissed triumphantly.—Truth.

SENATORS RIDICULE WOLLCOT'S MISSION

CLAIM IT SHOWS LACK OF FAITH.

Messrs. White, Daniel and Others Think There Are Small Chances Of Any Monetary Conference Being Held—Proceedings in the House—Other Washington News.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The senate had a busy session Tuesday. Cuba, the proposed international monetary conference and the Nicaragua canal each came in for a share of attention. Mr. Turpie (Ind.) closed his speech on the Cuban resolutions, urging that Spain had utterly failed to quell the outbreak, and that the United States should intervene. He closed as follows:

"If the Cuban patriots succeed, we may then claim that we were friends of that republic; friends in need, in the hour and day of danger. If failure is before them—which may God avert—our action will still lose nothing of grace or of grandeur, and we shall then keep faith with the quenchless spirit of freedom, and, in the words of the great emancipators, wish that all men everywhere might be free."

The senate then turned to the Wolcott bill, providing for an international monetary conference. Mr. White (Dem., Cal.) spoke derisively of Mr. Wolcott's trip to Europe, as the representative of the coming administration, in behalf of bimetalism. The senator referred to the loneliness of the proposed commission, going about and seeking nations with whom to confer. He doubted if any one would be appointed to this commission, unless some large emolument was attached to the places. It was a futile movement, declared the senator, and, having relieved themselves of the financial problem by this harmless device, its promoters would then turn their attention to levying more taxes.

Mr. Cannon (Ind., Utah) urged an amendment directing the president of the United States to call the conference, and reciting that the purpose was toward securing a ratio between 15 to 1 and 16 to 1. As to international conferences in general, Mr. Cannon said he had little faith in them, and it would be about as difficult to galvanize life into one of the Pharaohs as to get any definite results from such conference.

Mr. Stewart (pop., Nev.) offered an amendment providing that in case the international conference failed to effect an agreement as to bimetalism then within thirty days after the adjournment of the conference the secretary of the treasury shall coin all gold and silver brought to the mints into standard silver dollars and such gold coins as are now provided by law.

This carried the discussion up to 2 o'clock, and it gave way to the Nicaragua canal bill, Mr. Chandler stating that he would urge the conference bill to final action at the earliest possible moment.

Mr. Morgan (dem., Ala.), in charge of the Nicaragua canal bill, proposed an amendment designed to overcome the objections stated in the recent protest of Minister Rodriguez of the Greater Republic of Central America.

Mr. Daniel (dem., Va.) spoke against the canal bill. At the outset, however, he turned aside to discuss the proposed international monetary conference. Referring to Mr. Wolcott's trip, Mr. Daniel said the American people going to Lombard street and seeking interviews with European financiers presented an impressive picture which deserved a place in the rotunda of the capital.

Mr. Daniel bitterly denounced the canal company and the pending bill, declaring that the passage of the bill would in effect put the United States into the "bunco business." After pouring all the hundred million into this canal the United States could not maintain exclusive control. The United States would pay for the canal and Great Britain would use it.

PASSED OVER THE VETO.

Pension Voted by the House for Jonathan Scott—Indian Culture.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The house overrode another of President Cleveland's pension vetoes Tuesday by a vote of 137 to 52. The bill pensioned Jonathan Scott of the 6th Iowa cavalry, who is now living at Oswego, Kas., at the rate of $72 per month. Mr. Cleveland vetoed it on the ground that the disability for which the beneficiary was to be pensioned was not contracted in the service. The rest of the day was devoted to a continuation of the debate on the Indian appropriation bill. Only a few amendments were adopted and those of a minor importance. About twenty-five pages of the bill were covered.

Mr. Hitt (rep., Ill.), chairman of the committee on foreign affairs, reported the diplomatic appropriation bill. In the course of the discussion about the Indian schools Mr. Murphy (Ariz.) questioned the good results of the present Indian educational system so far as it related to those who were returned to their reservations. Mr. Mahon (rep., Pa.) warmly defended the work of the Carlisle Indian school. Mr. Curtis (rep., Kas.) paid a high tribute to the work the educated Indians were doing in Kansas and other states.

BIG CHICAGO FIRE COSTS $500,000

FIREMEN ARE BURIED UNDER FALLING WALLS.

Jeremiah O'Rourke Was Rendered Unconscious and Cannot Recover—Further Details of the Great Blaze at Philadelphia—Fine Horses Roasted at Toledo, O.—Other News.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—Fire destroyed property valued at $300,000 at the southwest corner of Monroe street and Fifth avenue last night. Falling walls, due to the fire, injured twelve firemen and placed the lives of a score more in jeopardy. One of the injured will die. In addition to this the fire was attended by many narrow escapes from the peculiar construction of the building and the nature of the spread of the flames.

About 9 o'clock, when the fire had been burning nearly two hours, the west wall of the building began to sway. The motion, although slight, was seen by the firemen, who attempted to escape. Their clothing was coated with ice and stiff. The men's limbs were benumbed with the cold. Their utmost haste therefore was slow speed and before any of the men had taken three steps the upper portion of the west wall of the burning building fell with a crash. Every member of engine company No. 7 was covered with debris, but they were sufficiently far advanced to escape the heavier material, and while all of them suffered bruises and scratches, no one was severely injured. Engine companies Nos. 5 and 6 were caught beneath the body of the mass. The heaviest portion fell upon Jeremiah O'Rourke and carried him prostrate to the roof with it. Quinlan and Workman and Patterson were also knocked down by the debris and partly buried. O'Rourke's injuries made him unconscious. All the men were rescued and the most seriously injured taken to the hospital. O'Rourke cannot recover. The loss to building and contents will reach $530,000.

MILLIONS WERE BURNED UP.

Heavy Loss by Fire at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 27.—The most disastrous conflagration that has visited this city in recent years broke out shortly before 7 o'clock Tuesday morning in the rear of the basement of the big grocery store of Hanscom Bros., 1317 Market street, and before the flames were got under control property amounting in value to $2,500,000 or more had been destroyed.

It was at about 6 o'clock when the fire department was fighting a blaze at John and James Dobson's big carpet house in Chestnut street that an alarm was sounded from 13th and Chestnut streets. It is here that Wanamaker's great store is located, covering the entire block bounded by Chestnut, Market, 13th and Juniper streets, and as the building was constructed years ago, many of the fire-proof features of modern structures are lacking. The firemen soon found, however, that the flames had attacked the block opposite Wanamaker's on the north, separated from the big store by Market street's width of 120 feet.

When it was apparent that the block originally attacked was doomed, squads of firemen, with long lines of hose, were detailed to try to save Wanamaker's. This structure, with the goods piled up within its four walls, represented a money value of over $10,000,000. Despite the efforts of the city firemen, re-enforced by Wanamaker's fire brigade, the high wind prevailing forced the flames across Market street after they had been fought off for an hour and a half. Within a short time the handsome clock tower was in ruins, but the flames were under control.

The morning's conflagration cost one life and several persons were injured.

The dead: EMPLOYE for Ivins, Dietz & Magee, carpet house; dropped dead from excitement.

The injured: James Furlong, saloonist; overcome by shock; may die; William Gorman, fireman; struck by falling bricks.

Frank Piper, fireman; caught by falling wall. The first fire of the morning, that at 533 Chestnut street, was in the fifth story of the building occupied by O. S. Bunnell, wholesale stationer. The fire was extinguished with a loss of about $10,000.

Nearly all the sufferers from the fire are fully protected by insurance. The burned district is in the very heart of the business center of the city, across the way from the mammoth city hall and around the corner from the Pennsylvania station.

Chicago Elevator Burns.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—A loss of $200,000 was sustained Tuesday by the W. H. Purcell Malting company in the burning of an elevator at One Hundred and Twenty-third street and the Belt line tracks. The elevator was recently rebuilt, two former structures having been heavily damaged by fire. This, however, is the first time the building was completely destroyed.

Many Fine Horses Burned.

Toledo, Ohio, Jan. 27.—Late Tuesday afternoon fire broke out in Joseph Popp's fancy livery stable in the central portion of the city. Many fine horses were being boarded there, and twenty-eight were burned to death, while many others had their ears, tails and manes burned off, and their eyes blinded. Several of them had to be shot. The loss cannot be estimated at present, but will approximate $40,000. No insurance.

Two Fires in Indiana.

Logansport, Ind., Jan. 28.—An explosion of natural gas started a fire in the Mudcock hotel Tuesday night, and the structure was gutted. The loss is about $75,000.

Kokomo, Ind., Jan. 27.—The Great Western Pottery works was damaged $60,000 by fire Tuesday. Insurance, $30,000.

SLEDDING PARTY'S FALL.

Forty Persons in Pennsylvania Driven Over a Fifty-Foot Precipice.

Altoona, Pa., Jan. 27.—About 10 o'clock Monday night a sleighing party of forty persons from Tyrone drove into a quarry at Pemberton, six miles below that place. The pleasure-seekers, with their sleds and horses, were precipitated fifty feet to the bottom of a precipice, where they lay in a great mass. Twenty persons were badly injured.

The party was mostly made up of young persons. Boys and girls, with arms and legs broken, and with blood streaming from their wounds, lay in drifts of snow. The mercury stood at 3 degrees below zero, adding to the horror of the catastrophe. The following is a partial list of the injured: Alice Hadden, Little Washington; Jessie Stone, Bellefonte; Eugene Crampton, Tyrone; William Jones, Tyrone; Howard Templeton, Tyrone. These are all badly hurt.

WOMEN NAME COMMITTEES.

First Day's Session of the Suffrage Convention at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 27.—The national convention of the Women's Suffrage association met in this city Tuesday. About 200 delegates are present from outside the city. The president, Susan B. Anthony, delivered her annual address, in which she said that fifty years ago a woman could work for nothing, whereas to-day she can work for half-pay, her treatment having been bettered by so much.

Addresses of a general character were made at the session by the Rev. Anna Shaw, vice president-at-large, Rachel Foster Avery, Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, Mary C. C. Bradford of Colorado, Mrs. Emilie Wells of Salt Lake City, Miss Laura Cady, Clara B. Colby of Washington, Henry B. Blackwell and Elizabeth Willard of Battle Creek, Mich.

Full committees were appointed during the day.

TO REDISTRICT INDIANA.

Republicans in Caucus Decide as to Political Legislation.

Indianapolis, Ind., Jan. 27.—The Republicans in the legislature held a caucus Tuesday night as to political legislation. Over the protests of several members who had desired a Congressional reapportionment of the State it was decided to leave the districts as they are.

On the question of legislative apportionment a committee was appointed to take all the legislative apportionment bills that have been introduced thus far—a half dozen or more—put them into one bill and redistrict the State into legal divisions. It was also decided to revise the election law so that no man shall have his name on the ticket more than once, thus doing away with any future case of fusion and also providing for marking the ballots with a pencil instead of a stamp.

Favor the Arbitration Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 27.—The National board of trade, at its first session Tuesday, re-elected as president the venerable Frederick Fraley of Philadelphia, who was absent from the meeting, by reason of the illness of his wife. Mr. Fraley is 93 years of age, and has been president of the board continuously since its organization. Ex-Gov. E. O. Stanard of St. Louis was elected temporary chairman. After a number of routine matters had been disposed of, resolutions were unanimously adopted urging the senate to ratify the pending Anglo-American arbitration treaty. Copies of the resolutions were ordered sent to all United States senators, the association of the chambers of commerce of Great Britain and Secretary Olney.

They May Fight in Nevada.

Carson, Nev., Jan. 27.—The glove contest bill introduced to permit the fight between Corbett and Fitzsimmons, to take place in Nevada, passed the assembly Tuesday by a vote of 20 to 9, the license being increased to $1,000.

Three Friends Released.

Jacksonville, Fla., Jan. 27.—The tug Three Friends has been released from the last libel filed on $5,000 bail. She is being fully repaired and the supposition is that she will again go on a towing expedition.

Loss of Live Stock Small.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 27.—The cold wave of this week has not been severe in Wyoming and loss of stock from its effect has been nominal.

HURT UNTO DEATH NEAR WAUSAU, WIS.

WELL KNOWN RAILROAD MAN INJURED.

Peter Conroy, Who Was Once Taken For "Cooney the Fox" in the Cronin Cause Caught By a Train—Fire At Freedom Costs About $5,000.

Wausau, Wis., Jan. 27.—[Special]—Peter Conroy, one of the best known railway men in the northwest, was fatally injured at Kelly this morning. He had been in two wrecks before, and escaped, but is now badly injured. He was once arrested on suspicion of being "Cooney the Fox" in the Cronin case.

Fire at Appleton.

Appleton, Wis., Jan. 27.—[Special]—Fire destroyed the saloon and hotel of John Schonert, and the grocery of Mr. Gaines at Freedom, this county, this morning. Loss $5,000, insurance $2,500.

MANY PEOPLE INJURED

Overland Flyer Is Wrecked at a Siding Thirty Miles From Cheyenne, Wyoming.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Jan. 27.—The overland flyer was wrecked in a collision with a freight train at Tie Siding, thirty miles west of here, this morning. Many persons are believed to be dead or injured, but no definite news has been received.

SENATORS ASK ADVICE

They Want to Know What the People Think About the Treaty With England.

Washington, D. C., Jan. 27.—The senators want to hear from the people by personal letters regarding the advisability of ratifying the alliance treaty with England.

TWO DEAD IN A MINE

Fatal Accident in the Smock Mines Near Uniontown Pa.—Eight Are Hurt.

Uniontown, Pa., Jan. 27.—Two men were killed and eight were injured by an explosion of gas at the Smock mines near here this morning.

ANXIOUS FOR ARBITRATION.

Prominent Men Attend a Large Meeting in Washington.

Washington, Jan. 27.—A large meeting of the friends of the arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain, now pending in the senate, was held in the Grand Opera House here at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. The call for the meeting was signed by ex-Secretary John W. Foster, who succeeded Mr. Blaine as secretary of state in President Harrison's cabinet, Chief Justice Melville W. Fuller, of the United States supreme court, Bishop John F. Hurst, Bishop Henry Y. Satterlee, President B. L. Whitman of Columbian university and other prominent citizens. The purpose of the meeting was stated in the call to be the public attestation of the approbation of the great principles of arbitration embodied in the pending treaty. The audience was a large and distinguished one, and included the delegates to the meeting of the National board of trade, now in session here. A letter from Cardinal Gibbons was read expressing his regret at not being able to attend the meeting.

DENIED BY SHERMAN.

Will Not Withdraw Acceptance of the State Portfolio.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Senator Sherman has once for all set at rest the gossip predicated on his alleged intention of withdrawing his acceptance of the portfolio of secretary of state. In an interview drawn out by the wholesale publication of baseless sensational reports from all parts of Ohio representing that state to be riven with factional republican quarrels, the senator uses this language, which would seem to leave no point unsettled: "My acceptance of the portfolio of secretary of state was without any reservations or conditions. Governor Bushnell has about six weeks yet before it will be necessary to appoint my successor in the senate. There seems to be a general desire that Mr. Hanna should be selected for the seat, and, while I have no assurance on that point, I believe that Governor Bushnell will appoint him."

New American Cardinal Likely.

Rome, Jan. 27.—There is good reason to believe that the pope intends to create at the next consistory a new cardinal for North America, primarily with the object of giving new proof of his sympathy with the Catholics of the United States, and secondly to remove any bad impression which may have been created among the American bishops by the special marks of favor shown Dr. Keane.

SCOTS MADE MERRY AT THE ARMORY

ROBERT BURNS BIRTHDAY IS CELEBRATED.

Speeches Were Full of Good Things;
The Program Was of a High Character and the Dance That Followed Made a Fitting Finale to the Evening.

Janesville and Rock county Scots honored the memory of Robert Burns at the armory last night, and the 138th anniversary will go down in history as the most successful one in the history of the Rock County Caledonian society.
The program was an exceptionally good one; the addresses were meaty and interesting, and the dance that closed the evening's festivities was enjoyable. Smith's orchestra furnished the music and it was all that could be desired—and more.

THE ADDRESSES THAT WERE MADE

President Galbraith, Hon. R. B. Kirkland and E. H. Pence Spoke.

The addresses were a feature of the celebration this year. President Alex Galbraith's remarks were heard first and he spoke as follows:

President Galbraith's Address.

Ladies and Gentlemen—I take great pleasure in extending to you on behalf of the Rock County Caledonian society
a cordial welcome tonight. The revolution of time has brought us around to the 138th anniversary of that occasion when a chilling "blast o' Janu-ar" win blew haeel in on Robin." One hundred years last July have elapsed since his sad and untimely death at Dumfries, but the memory of Robert Burns is more lovingly cherished, and the anniversary of his birth more universally celebrated than ever.
This magnificent meeting is but a counterpart of hundreds of others throughout the civilized world wherever Scottish hearts beat, true, and wherever Burns' songs of nature and human life have penetrated. The fame of this poet of humanity is universal.
"First down banks and braes contain-philosophy, medicines or law, commerce or mechanics, invention or discovery, Scotland's representatives have at all times occupied most prominent positions. Her shipbuilders are the admiration of all nations, her iron, cotton and woolen manufactures are favorably known in every land, and in agricultural pursuits she leads the world. Her soldiers have achieved a reputation for bravery unsurpassed by anything in the world's history. Her missionaries have courted danger and death in the jungles of Africa. Many of her sons have shed lustre and exerted an influence for good in this and other countries abroad. She has produced statesmen rather than politicians, and the civil and municipal

SECRETARY C. C. MACLEAN.

government of her cities is today accepted everywhere as a model for other countries to imitate. What wonder is it then that we feel proud of our connection with such a country?

Proud of America.

But while we fervently love and reverence our mother country as we do our mothers, that is no reason why we should be the less true, less loyal or less devoted to this, our adopted country. We are proud of Scotland, and justly so, but we are also proud of being citizens of this grand republic, this land of liberty and freedom and opportunity and inequality. And tonight when the Scottish and American people are met together throughout this broad land to celebrate the birth of the sweet bard of Ayr, it seems peculiarly fitting and gratifying to reflect that so recently a treaty of general arbitration has been completed between Great Britain and the United States—thus consummating a lasting peace and friendship between the two great English speaking nations. Such a treaty is a signal triumph of reason over passion and prejudice, and it is a happy augury of that more glorious day predicted and prayed for by Robert Burns a century ago, when all the nations of the world would be united in a common brotherhood.

"Then let us pray that come it may,
As come it will for a' that,
That sense and worth o'er a' the earth,
Will bear the price and a' that.
For a' that and a' that,
It's coming yet for a' that,
When man to Man the world o'er,
Will brothers be for a' that."

Hon. R. B. Kirkland's Speech.

Next came the address of Hon. R.
B. Kirkland, of Jefferson, who spoke on "Robert Burns." Mr. Kirkland was in a happy vein and his address commanded the closest attention. The life of the Scotch poet was reviewed in a charming manner and bits of his more noteworthy poems were woven into the subject matter in a way that added interest to both. His delivery was excellent, and his address was thoughtful and finished. Six years ago Mr. Kirkland addressed the Scots of Rock county winning the friendship of all, and this regard was made stronger by his excellent effort of last night.

Rev. E. H. Pence Remarks.

Rev. E. H. Pence, pastor of the Presbyterian church spoke of "The Mothers of Scotland," his address opening the second part of the program. He spoke briefly, but his remarks were tinged with the vein of wit for which Rev. Mr. Pence has become noted. A feeling tribute was paid to the Scottish race, and the compliment of their invariable success and sterling qualities, was paid to the mothers and fathers who dwell on the "heathery hills." Rev. Mr. Pence's address was full of historical value and was one of the most interesting of the evening.

THE PROGRAM WAS A GOOD ONE

Each Number was Received With Enthusiastic Applause.

The program was all that could be desired. Fred G. Duthie, the Chicago tenor, captivated his audience with

LINCOLN HIGGINS.

"Mary of Argyle," "The March of the Cameron Men" and "Highland Mary," with "My Bonnie Dearie" as an encore.

Lincoln Higgins, the elocutionist and impersonator, was at his best, and his numbers were received with enthusiastic applause.

Ida Mary Halliwell is a charming vocalist, and sang sweetly, her accompaniments being played by Mrs. J. F.
Sweeney.

Mrs. Janet B. Day's numbers were

THIS COLD SNAP NOT THE WORST

JAN. 7, 1887, THERMOMETERS
SHOWED 44 BELOW.

Interesting Figures Are Presented by W. P. Clarke, of Milton—Forty-One Days of 1884-5 When the Thermometer Ranged From Zero to Forty Below—County News.

(THE GAZETTE AGENCY
W. W. CLARKE, Manager.
Milton, Wis., Jan. 26, 1897.)

Cold Wave Arrives.
For the first time this winter, an Arctic wave has struck us. Sunday morning the mercury ranged from 18 to 22 degrees below zero, and Monday 24 to 30, while today 20 to 24 is the
of the present winter, but unlike Milwaukee and Chicago, not the coldest in twenty-five years. W. P. Clarke's record shows colder weather in 1882, 1885, 1887, 1892 and 1895, but the banner cold weather of all was in 1884-85, when there were forty-one days in December, January, February and March that the thermometer registered from zero to 40 degrees below.
The coldest day of which he has any record was January 7, 1887, when the

Fire Near The Village

The house of the farm of the S. G.
Burdick estate five miles northeast of this village in the town of Lima, was destroyed by fire Saturday afternoon.
The tenant, Frank C. Hudson, succeeded in saving his household goods. The fire caught from a defective chimney.
The building was a good farm house and insured in the N. W. National Insurance company for $750.

Mrs. Bullock Is Dead.

Mrs. H. S. Gould received a letter Monday from Chas. W. Bullock, announcing the death of his wife at Boulder, Colorado, on the 21st, inst.
The remains of Mrs. Bullock were taken to North Bend, in this state, for burial. Mrs. Bullock went to Colorado about a year ago with a hope of improvement in health.

The Week's Shipments.

There was considerable business in stock last week but the grain trade was light. Vincent & Hassinger shipped two cars of hogs, and G. R.
Fetherston two cars, and also one from Lima. Fetherston Brothers shipped one car of barley. Receipts included two cars of tobacco, two of coal and one each of feed and lumber.

Other News Notes.

W. H. McNitt returned from a visit with his uncle, E. J. Fenton at Sheldon, Iowa, Friday. He spent six weeks in that section, and expresses himself as very much pleased with the country. The only feature lacking to make it perfect is the dairy interest, in fact "Will" don't bank on any locality that has no veal calves to sell.

Master Ernest Bond has been quite ill with a severe attack of tonsillitis.
"Jim" Bullis did a good job with his snow shovel on the south side of Madison avenue, Sunday morning.

Pomeroy & Pelton have bought about seventy-five cases of old tobacco in this locality during the past week at 5 to 5 1/2 cents for delivery at Edgerton.

Deacon S. B. Potter and wife and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burdick, of Albion, have been the guests of Milton friends this week.

G. E. Osborn went to Chicago Monday, and will visit the Coliseum cycle exhibit and look up the latest fads in wheels.

Rev. S. H. Babcock, who has been doing evangelistic work at points in West Virginia, is home.

Mrs. Dr. Schmitz returned from Stoughton, Saturday, where she had been for dental treatment.

Operator Sperbeck and M. C. Whitford expect to visit the great Chicago cycle show this week.

P. of J. B. Borden came down from Madison Saturday and remained until Monday.

Miss Luella Barnhart is at Edgerton this week.

EPIDEMIC OF GRIP AT PORTER

Complaint is Very Similar to The Russian Disease.

Porter, Jan. 27.—There is an epe-demic similar to the grippé, prevalent in this locality, and the few who are not called upon to entertain it may consider themselves fortunate. Mr.
Morse of Janesville, was here last week in the interest of the Shaker Medical company, of St. Paul. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all who attended the party at P. Riley's last Friday evening. The thermometers in this vicinity hovered about thirty degrees below zero, Sunday and Monday.
Most of the tobacco in this neighborhood has been delivered. S. Dooley hailed off both '95 and '96 crops this week. Patrons of the Eagle creamery are helping the company fill their ice house. The ice is being taken from Gibbs' Lake. We have some poor sleighing, but all seem to enjoy it.
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Stearns were pleasantly surprised by a number of their young friends last Wednesday evening. Dancing was the chief amusement until the "wee sma' hours," and all enjoyed it exceedingly. Clara Pound is on the sick list, suffering with a severe cold. John Bates is on the roads these days, collecting taxes.

THE OVERFLOW OF LOCAL NEWS.

"THE NANCY HANKS" WAS GOOD

Miss Wickes Had But Little to Do, But Did It Well.

"The Nancy Hanks" pleased a large audience at the Myers Grand last night, when that piece was first presented in Janesville. The story is an amusing one, and served as a frame work upon which to hang some very good specialties. The singing of Miss Anna Boyd was loudly applauded. Her rendition of colored minstrel pieces were especially effective. Ignatio Martinetti carried a difficult role in a finished manner; sang sweetly, and danced oddly. In fact, the company was very evenly balanced, and all the parts were well taken. Miss Florence Lillian Wickes took the character of "Henrietta Dash." She did not have much to do, as the part was a minor one, but what she did do she did well. She has lost none of her attractiveness, and despite the fact that it was quite an ordeal for her to appear before a Janesville audience under the circumstances, she was entirely self-possessed. While Janesville people did not expect much of her, as her experience has been limited, she did not fall short of their expectations. "The Nancy Hanks" was all right, and the audience was pleased with both play and company.

THIS DAY IN HISTORY.

1756—Wolfgang Mozart born; died 1791.
1814—Fichte, the philosopher, died.
1851—John James Audubon, American ornithologist of worldwide eminence, died at New York; born in New Orleans 1780.

1878—Sir Edward Sheppard Creasy, author of "Fifteen Decisive Battles of the World," died; born in Bexley, England, 1812. Creasy's GEN. GORDON, famous work treats with remarkable clearness and eloquence of "those few battles of which a contrary event would have essentially varied the drama of the world in all its subsequent scenes." These were, according to Creasy: 1. Marathon, B. C. 490; 2. Syracuse, B. C. 413; 3. Arbela, B. C. 331; 4. Metastus, B. C. 207; 5. Victory of Arminius over Varus, A. D. 9; 6. Chaulons, 451; 7. Tours, 732; 8. Hastings, 1066; 9. Joan of Arc's victory at Orleans, 1429; 10. Defeat of the Spanish armada, 1588; 11. Blenheim, 1704; 12. Poltava, 1709; 13. Saratoga, 1777; 14. Valmy, 1792; 15. Waterloo, 1815.

1885—General Charles George Gordon killed at Khartoum.

1891—Jervis McEntee, American painter, died at Rondout, N. Y.; born there 1828.

1893—Hon. James Gillespie Blaine died in Washington; born Jan. 31, 1820. General Almer Doubleday, U. S. A., died; born 1819.

1895—Mrs. Emma G. Bostwick, the "American Jenny Lind," died at Morristown, N. J.

1896—John Tyler, son of the late President Tyler, died in Washington. General Theodore Runyon, a war veteran and United States ambassador to Germany, died in Berlin; born 1832. General Joseph H. Porter, a veteran of the Federal army and of the New York national guard, died in New York city.

ALL FOR BUSINESS.

Gov. Scofield has been a keen-witted, level-headed, self-reliant business man too long to go far astray on business legislation. His veto of the first corporation measure presented was accompanied by so clear a statement of the defects of the bill that his mastery of the principles of corporation law was apparent.

Another matter which the governor is particularly well qualified to handle is the classification of help in the capitol. It took very little time to convince him that two men were doing one man's work in more than one office about the building. This abuse grew phenomenally during the Peck administration when office seekers besieged the departments day and night. The abolishing of a lot of the sinecures created to pacify hungry democrats will come as soon as the special joint committee appointed at the governor's suggestion can report.

BIRTHDAY FOR KANSAS.

Kansas celebrated her 36th birthday Friday. She can look back on a great many noble achievements, and several costly mistakes. Hardly any of the forty-five states have helped to make more history. In this respect she is not much behind Virginia, New York, Massachusetts, or any other of the original thirteen. On the one or two occasions when she went astray she injured herself more than she did others. She will learn something from her mistakes, though, and can be relied upon to put herself in line in the next election with the most rational and progressive of the sisterhood.

There is hope that the legislature may do something to encourage the good roads movement. A tax for road improvement would work to the advantage of the southern part of the state as much as the one mill school tax helped the piny country.

In George Koopen he passed away a man with whom a compromise with untruth, a smoothing over of uncomfortable actualities, was impossible. It was his personal strength that made Germania the most influential German weekly in the country.

As far as electing a senator by popular vote is concerned, Wisconsin did that last fall. The vote for John C. Spooner in Madison yesterday was merely a formality.

The last year of Harrison's administration $40,570,467 was paid on the public debt. President Cleveland might bunch all of his four years and not equal this record.

Six hundred idle convicts fomenting rebellion in Sing Sing prison, bespeak the success of the New York convict labor law.

Assemblyman Wheeler is winning more than a fair share of honors during his first week in the legislature.

Lipton's Ceylon tea, 38 cents per pound, two pounds for 70 cents; double the strength of other teas, and therefore cheaper. C. A. Sanborn & Co.

To Repeal Illinois Libel Law.

Springfield, Ill., Jan. 27.—Representative Revell of Chicago introduced a bill in the house Tuesday to repeal the newspaper libel law which was passed two years ago. Mr. Revell moved that the measure be read a first time without reference to a committee. Having obtained that privilege, he went a step farther and asked that the measure be made a special order for today at 10 o'clock. Such speed at the beginning of the session is unusual, but the members cried "Leave!" and the repealing bill was given the right of way. It contains an emergency clause, so as to wipe the present law off the statute books instantly.

Representative Robert Busse of Chicago presented a resolution to the house, which was read and made a special order for Thursday, protesting against the ratification of the arbitration treaty by the national senate.

Railroad Wreck Expensive.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 27.—The railroad accident which occurred on the Atlantic City meadows last summer, when a Philadelphia & Reading flyer ran into a West Jersey train and resulted in the killing of forty-four persons and the injuring of about 100 more, has proved a very costly one to the railroads. It is estimated that thus far they have paid out in damages a sum amounting to nearly $1,000,000.

Thousands Suffering in New York.

New York, Jan. 27.—To the thousands of homeless of unfortunates in New York the slight rise in the temperature Tuesday meant little. As on Monday, they crowded into the relief station, distracted with hopelessness and shivering with cold. How much suffering there is in the city is in a measure shown by the statement that the Association for Improving the Condition of the poor is investigating 1,000 cases.

Entire Navy in a Dangerous Condition.

New York, Jan. 27.—Nearly every vessel in the United States navy, from the ponderous battleships to the little torpedo boats, have been found to be not only in a weakened but a dangerous condition. This is because of faulty construction, the full knowledge of which has just been brought before the navy department. As a consequence, the majority of the vessels of the service now in commission, as well as many of those under construction, will be altered at a cost that will reach into the hundreds of thousands.

To Work for Pooling Bill.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Acting on favorable reports from the lobbyists who have the matter in charge, the managers of the pooling bill have decided to bring it up for consideration in the House committee on Interstate Commerce next Friday, and feel so confident of their position that they have authorized a public announcement of the fact.

Village of Poland, N. Y., Destroyed.

Utica, N. Y., Jan. 27.—The greater portion of the village of Poland, Herkimer county, was destroyed by fire Tuesday. Citizens fought the flames as best they could with bucket lines until the arrival of an engine from Herkimer. The total loss is estimated at $30,000.

Will Send a Warship.

Washington, Jan. 27.—Secretary Herbert has decided to accede to the request of the citizens of Mobile, Ala., to have a naval vessel there during Mardi Gras. Another vessel will be sent to New Orleans for the Mardi Gras there.

Guarding the Sawyer Murderer.

Mansfield, Mo., Jan. 27.—Ed Perry, murderer of the Sawyer family, who had been confined in the Howell County jail for safe keeping, was brought here Tuesday, a plot for jail delivery having been discovered at West Plains.

In the Iowa Legislature.

Des Moines, Iowa, Jan. 27.—Senator Gorrell of Newton introduced a resolution in the senate asking congress to declare the independence of Cuba. A movement has been started by the members of the house to abolish the geological department and to consolidate the offices of state mine inspector, state board of health and the labor commissioner.

Respond to Coxey's Call.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—Coxey's call for a parade of the unemployed on Washington's birthday will be answered by the 20,000 idle men in St. Louis. The central body of the Knights of Labor has appointed a committee to arrange for the parade in behalf of that organization.

An Englishman met a party of American settlers journeying westward, and got into conversation with their leader, an eminently practical man.

"We only take useful people with us. This"—pointing to a man—"is our junior, this our baker, this is our blacksmith," and so on.

"But," said the Englishman, "that very old fellow—surely he can't be of much use to you?"

"Oh, yes, he is. That's grandfather. We shall open our new cemetery with him."—Milwaukee Wisconsin.

No Other Reason Necessary.

"We shall show your honor," said the attorney for the plaintiff, "that my client is entitled to a divorce on the ground of non-support. Notwithstanding the fact, as the evidence will prove, that her husband is a member of six lodges."

"The application for divorce is granted," interposed the judge. "Call the next case."—Chicago Tribune.

His Own Clothes Box.

While going home to dinner the other day, says a keen observer, I overheard the following conversation between a young man whom I know well and a police officer.

The young man was looking into a shop window, considering what was best to do, when the officer put his hand on his shoulder, and said:

"Now, young man, move off."

Looking up with surprise, the young man said:

"It is a pity a young man cannot look at his own clothes box."

The officer smiled and walked away. It was a pawnshop.—Golden Days.

A Hopeful Circumstance.

"So Mr. Tivvins has married a ballet girl!" exclaimed young Mrs. Torkins.

"Yes," replied her husband.

"Well, I hope she'll make him a good wife."

"I hope so."

"There's one thing that ought to help to make them happy, if she dresses anything like the ballet girls I saw. She won't mind the cold enough to have any excuse for bothering Mr. Tivvins about seakins sacques."—Washington Star.

Literally.

"He peruses only light reading," said Miss Tillinghast.

"I see," replied Mr. Hilow. "He is fond of romances and the like."

"The customers say there is a good deal of romance about the bills."

"The customers—bills?"

"Yes; he's a reader of gas meters."—Town Topics.

Proof Positive.

Plugwinch—Congratulate me, dear boy! I'm engaged to the wealthy Mrs. Grabster.

Pignuffle—So glad, old man! But—er—are you sure she is really rich?

Plugwinch—Sure? I should say so! Why, she was arrested for shoplifting and acquitted as a kleptomaniac.—N. Y. Truth.

A Serious Case.

"Mrs. Newly, is it true that your husband is so very absent-minded?"

"Perfectly. We've been married six months and many an evening at 11 he gets up, takes me by the hand, tells me what a delightful time he had and would leave if I did not remind him."—Detroit Free Press.

It Ran On Forever.

IS HE

"A GOOD ONE?"

MRS. DIXON, of Chatham street, Janesville, suffered with rheumatism eight years. Had been treated by many physicians and taken "sure cures" but constantly grew worse until she was helpless. Her case became well known as a hopeless one. Mr. Alden Morehouse, the New York Sp. eliaist, now permanently located at the Murdock Flats, North Franklin street, was called to see her a month ago. His friends advised him to refuse the case as it was incurable and could only injure his business. He did not fear such a result and at once began a preparatory course in nerve, s. in and muscle feeding to prepare her system for remedies which are to follow. People then said: "If he can do anything for Mrs. Dixon he is a good one." After one month of preparatory treatment he has her permission to use all the remedies which are to follow. For themselves or for others, to call and see what improvement has already taken place and then answer for themselves the question, as above.

MANY POOR FOLKS APPLY FOR HELP

POORMASTER KENYON IS KEPT BUSY.

His Office in the Jackman Block is Visited by Many People—Always Able to Pick Out the Impostors—The Supplies Given Out to Date.

The pitiless blasts of the past few days brought misery and destitution to many a Janesville home. The reports of the local charity institutions reveals many cases of destitution in the city.

The good citizens of the city have responded in a most generous manner with clothing, fuel and food. The number of men who have applied for lodging at the jail has increased, but all comers have been cared for and fed by Sheriff Acheson.

Poormaster S. B. Kenyon is doing good work in all sections of the city. His office in the third story of the Jackman block is a busy place these days.

People too poorly clad and with the pinch of poverty on their faces are there at all times of the day asking for help. During the past twenty-seven days Poormaster Kenyon has distributed twenty-two loads of wood in half-cord lots, eleven and one-half tons of coal, in one-half ton lots, and forty-eight different orders for groceries, each order averaging two dollars in value. Besides this fuel and food an endless amount of clothing and shoes have been given out, largely by the Associated Charities.

Mr. Kenyon has had large experience, and no unworthy person is able to hoodwink him in applying for aid. He knows the minute he talks with an applicant whether or not the case is a deserving one, and never makes a mistake.

The county pays $7.75 a ton for coal and $5 a cord for wood, so the expense can be easily figured out.

JANESVILLE PEOPLE TO BE THERE

Will Take Part in the Charities and Correction Convention.

Janesville will be well represented at the ninth conference of Charities and Correction to be held in Madison on Feb. 2, 3 and 4.

The meeting will be held in the Presbyterian church, while the civil service meeting will take place in the Assembly chamber.

Janesville people who will take part and the committees on which they have been placed are as follows:

Standing Committee—Corporation of Charity Organizations—Mrs. Mary W. Crosby, chairman. Reformatory and Penitentiaries—Judge John R. Bennett.

Law and Legislation—William A. Jackson. Education of the Deaf and Blind—Superintendent H. F. Bliss; Miss Lizzie J. Curtis.

Senator John M. Whitehead is a member of the executive committee.

TRIES DIVORCE CASE AT DELAVAN

Attorney J. J. Cunningham Appears For The Defendant.

Attorney J. J. Cunningham left yesterday for Delavan to defend Frank Wiedemer in a divorce action brought by his wife Anna Wiedemer. Both parties are well known and reside on a farm near Delavan. Cruel and inhuman treatment is charged by the plaintiff. Mrs. Wiedemer says they were married but two months when Frank ejected her from the house with an unusual amount of force. She now asks for suit money and alimony.

CHICAGO POLICE SEEK CROOKS

They Want Five Men Who Helped Rob Schrage.

Sheriff Acheson is in receipt of a message from Chief J. J. Badenoch, of the Chicago police, notifying him to be on the lookout for five crooks who were implicated in the Christopher Schrage robbery on March 24. A reward of $500 is offered for their capture. A description of each man is given, as well as a reproduction of a photograph.

Members (except ladies) not present are liable to a fine of fifty cents unless excused as provided by the bylaws. A. P. BURNHAM, Secretary.

CAN MR. KEELEY END THE DIVORCE CASE

ACTION DEPENDS UPON HIS SUCCESS.

If An Orfordville Man Comes Home From Dwight Cured His Wife Will Drop the Matter of a Proposed Action—Janesville Attorneys Are Retained.

It all depends upon whether or not the Keeley cure works in the case of Toley Remy, whether or not his wife seeks a divorce from him.

If Remy is a sober man and swears to repent, all will be forgiven.

Mr. Remy and his wife, Barbara Remy reside upon a small farm near this city in the direction of Orford.

Their union has been blessed by three children, and all was serene until the "man of the house" took to drinking.

For several months past, it is alleged, he would hitch up his team to drive to the "temperance" village of Orford "just to spend the evening."

Mrs. Remy tired of the practice, and hitching up the team Mrs. Remy drove to this city and after a consultation with the law firm of Whitehead, Matheson & Smith, she decided to bring action against her husband on the grounds of inhuman treatment and failure to support, with the understanding that the property is to be deeded to her.

Remy in the meantime had consented to take the cure, and is now at Dwight, Ill. Mrs. Remy has given the matter a second thought, and the agreement as it now stands is, that if her husband emerges from the Keeley institute, cured, all will be forgiven.

Remy's numerous friends are now anxiously awaiting the result, predicting a happy reunion when he comes home.

WAREHOUSE OPENS TOMORROW

J. M. Thayer Will Be In Charge For Barnard & Wilder.

THE Man-Faced Crab.

One of the most singular looking creatures that ever walked the earth, says Dr. Shiesoff, is the famous man-faced crab of Japan. Its body is half an inch in length, yet the head is fitted with a face which is the perfect counterpart of a Chinese coolie—with eyes, nose and mouth all clearly defined. This curious creature, besides the great likeness it bears to a human being in the face, is provided with two legs, which seem to grow from the top of its head and hang down over the sides of its face. Besides these legs, two feelers, each about an inch in length, grow from the chin of the animal, looking for all the world like a forked beard. These man-faced crabs literally swarm in the waters of the inland seas of Japan.

Made to Fit.

Friend (to Mr. Levy) — Don't you think it's a pity, Levy, to let your little son walk so poorly? He is getting quite bandy legged.

Mr. Levy—I want him to get bandy legged. You see, I am bandy legged myself, and ven mine boy is old enough to wear mine left-off trousers, dey vil fit him petter if he is bandy legged!—Fun.

COMMITTEES QUIT BECAUSE OF COLD

WORK TO BE RESUMED WHEN IT MODERATES.

One Thousand Dollars is Pledged and Capt Vankirk Offers to Turn Over His $400 Interest as a Stockholder West Side Committee Raised Largest Amount So Far.

West Side.....$ 550
East Side.....510
Capt. Vankirk's stock, etc.....400

Total.....$1,460

That is the way the street car power house subscription list stands now.

The committees are not at work during the present cold snap, but will resume the hunt as soon as the thermometers revive.

The west side committee has only worked in the two blocks between the bridge and Corn Exchange, on Milwaukee street, and the upper end of the street, and the side streets have not yet been visited.

The committee is therefore in hopes that the amount will grow rapidly when work is resumed, as in no case, in the territory mentioned, has a person refused to contribute something.

The Eastside committee has made a more thorough canvass, but the amount secured is slightly smaller than the West side figure. With $1,060 in cash subscribed and with Captain Vankirk's offer to turn over his interest as a stockholder in the road, about $400, there is no reason why the amount necessary to start the cars should not be secured.

GEORGE HUGHES' FOOT CUT OFF

Brooklyn Man Undergoes an Operation at Oak Lawn Hospital

George Hughes, aged twenty-five, a resident of Brooklyn, Wis., got his foot caught in a threshing machine about a year ago. A doctor in Minnesota amputated the foot but the operation was not successful, the flaps not being long enough. The foot was amputated this morning at Oak Lawn hospital by Drs. Woods and Joe Whitling assisted by Will Bonesteel.

ASSOCIATIONS GO UNDER.

Tennessee Building and Loan Concerns in Receivers' Hands.

Knoxville, Tenn., Jan. 27.—In this city, where for several years have flourished six of the largest building and loan associations in the country, including the Southern, the largest one in the world, all but two have gone into receivers' hands within the last few days.

The Supreme court of Tennessee, at a recent sitting in Knoxville, rendered an opinion which was very adverse to the interests of the association. This caused hundreds of suits to be filed against them to recover property. The Southern was placed in the hands of temporary receivers a few days ago, and at a meeting of the stockholders they asked that the receivers be made permanent and the business be wound up.

The Savings, Building & Loan association was given a receiver Monday, and the Knoxville and Covenant associations Tuesday.

Manufacturers Hold a Meeting.

Philadelphia, Pa., Jan. 27.—The second annual convention of the National Association of Manufacturers opened Tuesday in Horticultural Hall. The committee on transportation reported that the sole topic acted upon by the convention in Chicago on the subject was embodied in a resolution subsequently introduced into Congress in the form of a bill authorizing the interstate commerce commission to prepare and publish a classification of freight articles and rules, regulations and conditions for freight transportation, to be known as the "national freight classification." While nothing would be stated officially, it was understood that the committee favored a strong protective tariff and reciprocity.

Impugns the Spureme Court.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—Gov. Charles P. Johnson, Charles Noland and John W. Booth, Arthur Duestrow's attorneys, have completed their motion for a rehearing by the Supreme court of a motion for a new trial of the famous case, and it will be forwarded to Jefferson City. The principle points upon which the motion for a rehearing is based is a direct charge that the court did not read the record in the case, as is required by the statutes. Duestrow's attorneys virtually charge that the state's prosecutor was allowed to write the opinion for the Supreme court.

Hotel Guests Cremated.

Fort Smith, Ark., Jan. 27.—The new Windsor hotel burned Tuesday morning. I. H. Pray, egg buyer for a Chicago firm, was burned to death. The fire was caused by the explosion of a lamp in the rear of the hall on the second floor and spread rapidly. Pray arrived only an hour before the fire and failed to get up when called. His parents reside at Springfield, Mo. Late in the afternoon the remains of E. A. Mullison, salesman for A. B. Carson & Co. of Chicago, were taken from the ruins.

Relieving Chicago's Destitute.

Chicago, Jan. 27.—The contributions of Chicago people to various funds for the relief of the poor during the last two days amounts to more than $38,251 in cash, besides by estimate $10,000 worth of supplies, clothing, food and the tender of numerous buildings free of rent for use as shelter stations and depots for the distribution of food, fuel and clothing.

Killed in a Railroad Wreck.

Dorchester, N. B., Jan. 27.—The Canadian express from Halifax for Montreal on the inter-colonial line left the rails near here just before noon Tuesday and went down an embankment. Two persons were killed and six injured. Those dead are: Arthur Edgcomb of St. John, postal clerk; Mrs. Patrijurn of Bloomfield, N. B.

Franco-American Peace Treaty.

Paris, Jan. 27.—It is semi-officially stated that negotiations for a treaty of general arbitration between France and the United States were commenced about a year ago, but were only resumed when it was announced that the Anglo-American treaty had been definitely concluded.

Great Distress at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Mo., Jan. 27.—The police estimate that there are 25,000 families in want in St. Louis, and Tuesday over 300 cases of complete destitution were reported. Coal, wood and food are being distributed as fast as possible. The suffering in the Second and Third districts is intense.

Lieut.-Gov. Northcott Ill.

Greenville, Ill., Jan. 27.—Lieut.-Gov. W. A. Northcott, who is head counsel of the Modern Woodmen, is confined to his room at his home in this city with a severe attack of grip. He was able to sit up awhile Tuesday, and it is believed he will soon recover.

Twelve Life-Savers Lost.

Harboore, Jutland, Jan. 27.—A lifeboat which had been searching for some fishing smacks belonging to this place, which have been missing since the storm, has been capsized, and twelve of her crew were drowned.

Washington Bank Fails.

Olympia, Wash., Jan. 27.—The First National bank has closed. Liabilities, $100,000; assets, $226,000. The failure was caused by the withdrawal of the state deposit of $25,000.

IN COAL VEINS.

Wonderful Animal and Vegetable Petrification Frequent.

Most people know that coal is full of vegetable remains, but comparatively few are aware of the fact that animal and insect bodies by countless millions also go to make up the great beds of fuel that are now being so extensively drawn upon. The vegetable impressions found in coal or in the shale just above the vein are very beautiful as well as numerous, not less than 1,500 different kinds of plants having been noticed in carboniferous seams in the different parts of the world. Some of these plants are very much like those now living, but the majority of them, even though found in Nova Scotia or Iceland, appear to be representatives of what are now tropical varieties.

Many animals and insects are also found fossilized and thoroughly preserved in the coal beds. These petrified creatures of the bygone age called the "coal period" are of various kinds. Huge toad-like reptiles with beautiful teeth, small tree lizards, great fish with tre endous jaws, tiny water mites, snails, "hundred-legged" worms and thousands of insects of the grasshopper and dragon-fly tribes are also found. The curious fact is that there is not a single representative of these fossilized creatures now living.—Chicago Record.

Oscar Wilde in Prison.

Concerning Oscar Wilde's life in prison the forthcoming Bookman will say:

"So many conflicting accounts of the prison life of Oscar Wilde and of his condition have been published, that we feel bound to set forth a statement of the actual facts, our informant being an English official, whose position has made him personally cognizant of them. From this source we learn that Mr. Wilde's physical state is very distressing. He is unable to assimilate food; and an enteric disorder which has become chronic has reduced him to a condition of great weakness. He is governed by the silent system, and this is rigidly enforced, so much so that he has several times been punished for half involuntarily turning his head in chapel to get a glimpse of the person seated beside him. We re inquisitive enough to ask the nature of his punishment on these occasions, and were told that it consisted of having his "rug" taken from him. The rug in question is a strip of rag carpet, which serves as a substitute for a mattress, being spread upon the surface of a deal door, which is his only bed; so that, when under punishment, he sleeps upon the bare planks. The gentleman who made these statements is persuaded that Wilde will lose either his life or his reason as the result of his punishment; but he probably under-rates the extent of human endurance. The sentence, under the English system of commutation, has only six months more to run, and it is generally understood that at his expiration Mrs. Wilde will rejoin her husband."—New York Journal.

A Little While.

A little while a little love,
The hour yet bears for thee and me,
Who have not drawn the veil to see
If still our heaven be lit above.
Thou merely, at the day's last sigh,
Hast felt thy soul prolong the tone;
And I have heard the night wind cry
And deemed it mine own.

A little while a little love,
The scattering autumn hoards for us,
Whose bower is not yet ruinous
Nor quite unleaf'd our songless grove.
Only across the shaken boughs,
We hear the floodtides seek the sea,
And deep in both our hearts they rouse
One wail for thee and me.

A little while a little love,
May yet be ours who have not said
The word it makes our eyes afraid
To know that each is thinking of.
Nor yet the end; be our lips dumb
In smiles a little season yet;
I'll tell thee, when the end is come,
How we may best forget.

Even in Those Days.

"Did you know this was my birthday?" asked Eye.
"Is that so?" replied Adam. "Lemme see; how old are you—12?"
"You hateful thing, I'm only 9, and you know it!"

THE A. RICHARDSON SHOE CO.

A Comparison in Shoe Leather

It is usually supposed that a good, first-class Shoe for Ladies must cost about $4.00 The expenditure to that extent is supposed always to purchase as good a shoe as anybody could wish to wear. We have changed this shoe price for fine Shoes from $4 to $2.85.

It's not necessary to pay $4.00 for the best of Shoes.

Our Box Calf Shoe, and Our Dongola Shoes

at $2.85 a pair will compare well with any $4.00 Shoe you can find. Facts can't be disputed.

The Box Calf Shoe

s the best winter Shoe for ladies ever sold. We have put out more of them this winter than of any one make that we ever sold.

The Dongola Calf

is also a great shoe. It never sells for less than $3.50 or $4.00, yet we let them out at $2.85.

'Tis the Cash Plan that does it.

People appreciate the low prices we are enabled to make. Our increasing sales tell us so.

WOMAN'S WORLD.

BALL GOWNS AND OTHERS.

Trimmings For Evening Dresses—Short Capes of Fur and Velvet.

The question of ball gowns is a wide one, for not only is the age of the wearer to be considered, but the fact that she dances or does not dance. There are many young women, married and unmarried, who attend balls merely as spectators, and of course there are chaperons of all degrees of staidness and maturity, so the costume for such entertainments is much varied. Nondancers usually take even more pains with their attire than the more active participants, for slow promenading affords better opportunities for observation and criticism. Many dresses for ballgoers of this class are made with a train of velvet, broche silk or brocade, the bodice being of the same material entirely or perhaps left open in front to show a plastron like the tablier over which the train parts. This tablier, or lower skirt, may be of light colored satin, lace or embroidered tulle over a silk lining and be trimmed with ruffles of silk gauze, flowers tucked in ruffles of tulle, feather bands or fur. Fur is indeed mixed more and more with lace and other adornments and is used for ornamenting gowns of the utmost luxury and richness. It is employed often in bands alternating with bands of insertion of either solid embroidery or openwork over tinted ribbon. Entire bodices, corselets and boleros are thus composed.

VISITING COSTUME.

Short capes entirely of fur, very much furled with bows of satin and having collarettes of bristling cage of ribbon, are very fashionable. Wide collars and ruffled pelerines of fur, leaving the waist uncovered, are the preferred wraps for accompanying visiting gowns of velvet, satin and silk, as the latter can thus be displayed in all their magnificence.

The sketch shows a visiting costume of chasseur blue faille. The skirt is very slightly draped at the left side, a ruffle of eucalyptus green mousseline de sole passing from the belt to the foot, very much furled with bows of satin and having collarettes of bristling cage of ribbon, are very fashionable. Wide collars and ruffled pelerines of fur, leaving the waist uncovered, are the preferred wraps for accompanying visiting gowns of velvet, satin and silk, as the latter can thus be displayed in all their magnificence.

USEFUL HINTS.

How to Wash Silk Gauze and Crepon—A New Coiffure.

It is by many women considered very difficult to wash lace, and it is true that lace is often ruined in the cleaning process. But if proper care is exercised the washing will leave the lace in as perfect condition as ever. It should always be washed by itself and handled with the utmost gentleness. Fine, white soap should be dissolved in a small quantity of warm water and the lace, folded into a compact mass, allowed to soak in the water for 12 hours.

It is then to be taken out and, still folded, squeezed, not wrung, dry. If it is only slightly soiled, rinsing it in clear, warm water will finish cleaning it. But when it is much discolored, it may be boiled for five minutes in fresh soap and water, a porcelain basin being used and the lace being constantly stirred very carefully with a smooth stick. Afterward it is to be rinsed in cold water, rolled or folded and squeezed in a towel. It may be pinned on a flannel covered board to dry or may be softly pulled crosswise with the fingers until all the dampness has disappeared. The pulling should be done before a fire to facilitate drying. Most laces are marred by being pressed with an iron, valenciennes lace being the chief exception.

A Frenchwoman gives the following directions for washing silk gauze and gauze crepon and declares that if they are faithfully followed the materials will come out as good as new. Fill a basin with warm water in which white soap has been dissolved and put the gauze in the water, in which it must be carefully shaken about and pressed without being pulled or rubbed. The soap and water must be renewed several times. After the gauze is clean the moisture is to be softly squeezed out of it, and it is to be folded in a fine cloth until it is partly dry. Then it must be spread out to finish drying.

An illustration is given today of a new coiffure. It will be observed that the hair is carried up to the top of the head, a style which is gaining ground daily. In this case all the hair is waved and is drawn together above the crown of the head with no apparent twist. A shell comb holds it in place, in front of which the ends of the hair are curled carelessly. The locks above the forehead are also curled.

JUDIC CHOLLET.

THE SEASON'S FASHIONS.

Crape and Mousseline de Soie—Spangled Embroideries and Laces.

The dominant note in this season's fashions is spangled embroidery. An immense amount of it is used, small jewels being added to give increased brilliancy. Evening, reception and elaborate day gowns are enriched by it, hats and bonnets are adorned with it, and it appears upon evening and other wraps. The art of embroidery has arrived at a remarkable degree of perfection, and all sorts of materials serve as a foundation for more or less elaborate work. Motifs of velvet, lace and even fur are applied to satin, the outlines being traced by fine spangles or jewels.

The goods most worn are the brocades and broche silks, which recall the Louis Quinze period, the revival of the fashions of which has met with universal approval. Taffeta covered with flower designs is also employed, but not so much as it was last year. The pattern is embroidered with spangles and jewels very often, so women who have pretty taffeta gowns that are not quite up to date can rejuvenate them by sprinkling them with these glittering ornaments.

Crape and mousseline de sole compose some exceedingly pretty toilets, especially when they are embroidered and incrustated with velvet and lace. Valenciennes, guipures and point d'angleterre, enriched by metallic and jewel effects, are thus used. Applications of mousseline de sole on gowns of the same material are the latest novelty and one very pleasing and delicate. For example, a skirt of plaited white mousseline de sole over a plain skirt of white taffeta has applications of flowers of pale green mousseline de sole outlined by a thread of silk. Each flower has a diamond jewel in the middle.

Nowhere is the diminution of sleeves more in evidence than in evening gowns. In many cases there has been a return to the simple strap over the shoulder. The costume illustrated has practically no sleeves. The white satin skirt is entirely covered with six flounces of lace. The train is formed of two breadths of velvet simulating sash ends and bordered by a ruffle of black and white striped silk. The lace bodice has a V shaped decolletage, and the front draperies are arranged to show a vest of black and white striped silk. A plaited ruffle of lace serves for the sleeve, choux of black velvet being placed at the shoulders and bosom.

THE BREATH OF HAMPSHIRE HEATH.

The wind of Hampshire heath still burns my cheek.

As, home returned, I muse and see arise Those rounded hills beneath the low, gray skies, With gleams of haze lapped cities far to seek. These can picture, but how fitly speak Of what might not be seen with searching eyes.

And all beyond the listening ear that lies, Best known to birds and seers in times antique? The winds that of the spirit rise and blow Kindle my thought and shall for many a day, Recalling what blithe presence filled the place Where once I roamed, and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

I am not a philanthropist, nor do I pose as an enthusiast, but I am a man of men suffering the mental tortures of weakened manhood who would be cured at once could they but get such a remedy as the one that cured me. Do not try to study out how I can afford to pay the few postage stamps necessary to mail the information, but send for it, and learn that there are a few things on earth that although they cost nothing to get they are worth a fortune to some men and mean a lifetime of happiness to others. Write to Thomas Slater, Box 424, Kalamazoo, Mich., and the information will be mailed in a plain sealed envelope.

No need of cold feet if you have $2.85 in your purse, ladies. Richardsons gives you a box of dongola calf shoe at that price.

FREE TO EVERY MAN

WHICH CURED HIM AFTER EVERYTHING ELSE FAILED.

THE METHOD OF A GREAT TREATMENT FOR WEAKNESS OF MEN.

Painful diseases are bad enough, but when a man is slowly wasting away with nervous weakness, the mental forebodings are ten times worse than the most severe pain. There is no rest to the mental suffering day or night. Sleep is almost impossible and, under such a strain men are rarely responsible for what they do. For years the writer rolled and tossed on the troubled sea of sexual weakness until it was a question whether he had not better take a dose of poison and thus end all his troubles. But providential inspiration came to his aid in the shape of a combination of medicines that not only completely restored the general health, but enlarged his weak, emaciated parts to natural size and vigor, and he now declares that any man who will take the trouble to send his name and address may have the method of this wonderful treatment free. Now when I say free I mean absolutely without cost, because I want every weakened man to get the benefit of my experience.

Happenings at Sanborn's

FOR

Tomorrow == Thursday.

JUST FOR THIS ONE DAY!

WE NAME A FEW BARGAINS:

Fancy California Alden Apricots, evaporated, rich and clean, 3 lbs. for 25c. These Apricots are of fine color and as good as can be grown anywhere; they are not the cheap sun dried, dirty poor colored goods that you pay the same price and often more for, but dried and cured in the most approved manner and sent out as high class goods.

Fancy Alden Steam Evaporated Ring Apples, cored, usual price 3 lbs. for 25c, tomorrow only 5c lb., in either 1 lb. or 100 lb. lots. These apples are fine as silk, white in color, and delicious in taste—the highest grade articles sold and great bargains for this one day.

Lipton's Famous India Tea, made from pure tea leaves, not artificially colored, therefore much more healthful to drink. We have one hundred pounds of this Tea we will sell at 38c per lb. or 2 lbs. for 70c. The using of Lipton Tea once or twice means its continual use for all time. It is much cheaper to use than other Teas from the fact that it takes but half the amount of Lipton's that it does of other Teas, to a cupful. We have this Tea in pound and half pound air tight cans.

We extend you all a cordial invitation to attend our demonstration any day this week.

Outing Flannel Night Dresses

... For Men, Women and Children.

We have just placed on sale another lot of those warm, fluffy, Teasel Down Night dresses---just the thing for these cold winter nights. These Night Dresses are made of the best quality of Outing Flannel. They are full sizes; they are full length; they are made up in a first-class manner, and, at the prices we offer them they are cheap. If you think you will need one or two more before the winter is over you had better secure what you may want out of this lot.

Men's Night Dresses go at 94c. Ladies' Night Dresses go at 94c. Children's Night Dresses go at 71c.

We also offer

20 pieces new Outing Flannel at 5c. 30 pieces new Outing Flannel at 8c. 20 pieces new Outing Flannel at 9c.

This is a very complete line, comprising the best known makes and the very handsomest styles and colorings.
